BEAUTY, lady of fashion, has indeed laid her benton upon these charming frocks, as you will find upon inspection. But, mind you, there may be difficulty in choosing, for each holds individual attraction insuring upon consideration.

There are frocks of chiffon velvet, crepe back satin and Canton crepe variously combined in unusual effect, in appealing shades of brown, navy, rust and fashionab's black.

Long flowing sleeves of Georgette are to be noted in many instances, while others are in three-quarter and shorter lengths, and are in self-materials.

Mirroring the heights of the current vogue in inspiring styles, this is indeed a splendid collection of frocks you are invited to inspect critically.

35,000 miles meant nothing to these trunks

Here are four Indestructo Insured Trunks that made a lifetime's journey of 35,000 miles around the world in 13 months, without an opened seam or sprung joint. They were owned by Mr. L. J. Ollier, Vice-President of the Studebaker Corporation, who bought them especially for this journey.

He bought Indestructo Insured Trunks chiefly because of their inherent strength—the strength upon which alone depends their travelability. It is only natural that a man of Mr. Ollier's position should have a keen sense of values.

It was this that helped him to realize that the beauty of Indestructo hides a structural perfection different from any other trunks and stronger than all other trunks.

So great is this strength that we feel safe in saying, as the makers authorize—"If your trunk is damaged beyond repair in travel within five years from the day you buy it, you will get a new trunk of the same size and quality absolutely without cost."

Never buy a trunk on appearance; know its reputation for standing travel abuse before you buy it.

Refuse any trunk that does not offer you protection, strength and convenience equal to that of Indestructo; it is the only trunk made that is safe to buy and safe to travel with.

By special arrangement with the makers the four Ollier trunks are at our store for you to see and examine. These travel-tested trunks, with their itinerary and a map of their travels, makes an interesting exhibit and one well worth seeing. You are most cordially welcome at any time to visit our show-rooms, but we urge early attendance, as it is possible for us to have this exhibit for three days only.

Do not buy any trunk until you see our comprehensive showing of 1921 Indestructo Insured Trunks and N. V. P. Standard Trunks to men's, women's and combination models. Decide now—"The next trunk I buy will be an Indestructo."
